SOLAR WINDOWS ACHIEVES ISO14001

Solar Windows has joined the select group of PVC-U window fabricators who have achieved ISO14001 approval for their environmental management systems.

The REHAU fabricator, which specialises in the public sector, has demonstrated formally that it can meet the requirements of all those social housing providers who require independent assessment of their window and door suppliers' environmental credentials.

Bob Jenkins, the Operations Manager at Solar Windows, said: "Solar has long recognised its commitment to the environment and had previously signed up to the Green Dragon environmental management scheme in Wales.

"The process of achieving ISO14001 formalised many of the systems and processes which we already had in place at our production facility in Caerphilly and extended those strict disciplines into our administration and onsite work.

"It has been a challenging but very valuable exercise and one which puts us firmly into the 'premier league' of commercial fabricators in the UK."

Solar Windows manufactures windows, doors and curtain walling in the REHAU S706 70mm system and operates throughout Wales, the Midlands, and the South East and South West of England. It is also one of two UK fabricators in the new REHAU GENE® energy efficient window system.
